Local APO Chapter To Present 'Land Of Dragon' Wed. Night In LT

Alpha Psi Omega members are caught in action at dress rehearsal for "The Land of the Dragon."

Lambda Mu Cast of Alpha Psi Omega, campus honorary dramatics fraternity, will present "The Land of the Dragon" Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in the Little Theater.

On Monday and Tuesday, afternoon performances are at 2:15 for Waverly grade school children. Wednesday's performance at 7:30 p.m. will be for adults and college students.

The play is centered around a lovely princess, Jade Pure, portrayed by Lavonne Otto, senior. The princess has to be married before her 18th birthday to become empress of the Southern Kingdom.

Wuebbens Plays Wicked Aunt

Her wicked aunt, Precious Harp, played by Tennie Wuebbens, senior, also wants to become empress and imprisons Jade Pure so that no young men can see her beauty and wish to marry her. Road Wanderer, Fred Gonnerman, senior, has a pet dragon, hears of the plight of Jade Pure and eventually frees and marries her.

Others in the cast include Conrad Grosenick, senior, portraying Covet Spring, Chancellor to Precious Harp; Nancy Graese, senior, as the twenty-first Cousin; Millie Shultz, senior, twenty-second Cousin; Betty Croghan, sophomore, twenty-third Cousin; and Gary Volberding, sophomore, twenty-fourth Cousin.

Shaw Plays Small One

Helen Shaw, freshman, plays the part of the Small One, while Charles Dickson, Speech Department head, and Joe Siplon, junior, are cast as clowns.

Shirley Cords, junior, is the play director; Jack Eske, senior, stage manager; and Dolores Bose, junior, property manager.

Volberding is in charge of lighting; Siplon, costumes; Chester Nerenhausen, senior, set; and Jerry Haver, senior, and Mrs. Charles Dickson, sound effects and properties.

STUDENT VOICE AT 'THE HOME OF THE KNIGHTS'

Volume 20 Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, Saturday, May 14, 1955 Number 28

Manthei, Windhorn Inaugurated Thurs.

Inauguration of 1955-56 Student Body President Don Manthei and Vice-President Eldor Windhorn was conducted at the close of the Student Body meeting Thursday.

Preceding the inauguration ceremonies, Pres. C. H. Becker congratulated retiring SBP Tom Loftus and Veep Deane Hutchison for fine work done during the past year. President Becker then pledged the support of the college faculty and staff to next year's officials.

Knuth

In the regular business meeting, a report was given by Rita Knuth, senior, on the ninth annual mock United Nations held at the University of Wisconsin. In concluding her report, Miss Knuth recommended that in following years a complete delegation be sent from the Wartburg campus.

Two Students Elected

In answer to a Convocations Committee request that two girls be elected by the student body to represent students at large on the committee, the Student Body elected Jackie Reents, junior, and Carla Karsten, sophomore.

President Tom Loftus gave a special word of recognition to the Secretariat; Betty Wittenwyler, Doris Bierwagen, juniors, and Joanne Dettmann, Alice Vorthmann, sophomores, for the behind-the-scenes work they have done for the Senate this year.

Thanks To Pinke

Special thanks was also given by the Student Body to Vic Pinke, senior, for his work on the intramurals committee this year.

Jackie Reents of the Student Welfare Committee brought up the discussion of careless driving on campus. Several suggestions for improving streets, speed limits and conferring with the Waverly City Council were made from the student body. No action was taken.

Six Students To Serve On Union Council

Six students were elected to serve on the first Student Union Council at Tuesday's convocation in Knights Gymnasium.

Junior members who will serve a temporary term of one year are Mary Hoh, Jackie Reents and Walt Pilgrim. In following years sophomores will be elected to serve the regular two year term.

Sophomores chosen in the election are John Beem, Carolyn Adix and Erland Eberhard.

Voting Members

The Stu-U Council will consist of 11 voting members and four advisory members. Voting membership will be comprised of six students, four faculty members and one alumnus.

Social and recreational functions of the new Union will come under the directional authority of the Student Council.

To Formulate Policies

The Council will propose and formulate the policies and regulations of student activity in the Union. Provision for the proper care and use of the building as well as guidance of individual student conduct in the Union will be a further responsibility.

Fostering of wholesome student life and activities within the building will be encouraged.

Don Altmann, Carolyn Adix and Ed Schneider were elected junior class senators on a special ballot last Tuesday.

Wartburg Community Orchestra Will Present Spring Concert Tomorrow At 8 P.M. In Gym

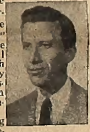
Wartburg-Community Symphony Orchestra, directed by Ernest Hagen, will present its Spring Concert tomorrow evening at 8 in Knights Gymnasium.

Featured soloists of the concert will be two Wartburg faculty members, Miss Mai Hogan, instructor in music education, theory and voice, and Miss Jean Abramson, instructor in piano.

Miss Hogan, contralto, will present Brahms' "Alto Rhapsody," while Miss Abramson, pianist, will present "Symphonic Voriations" by Frank.

Open with Overtura

Opening the program with Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro Overture" and "The Famous Largo" by Haydn, the Orchestra will continue with Haydn's "Toy Symphony," using six children with toy instruments.



Hagen

Continuing with "Two Elegaic Melodies" by Grieg, which employs the string section of the Orchestra, the initial part of the program will be concluded with Brahms' "Alto Rhapsody," featuring Miss Hogan and a male chorus of 30 college students and men of the community.

Free Will Offering

A free will offering will be taken during the intermission.

The second part of the program will contain Frank's "Symphonic Variations for Piano and Orchestra" and will feature Miss Abramson.

Stahle To Address Students Tuesday

Claes Stahle, Swedish student who was originally scheduled to speak at convocation on Tuesday, April 19, has been rescheduled for Tuesday's convo. Ascension Service at 6:30 on Thursday morning will replace convocation that day.

Now attending the University of Wisconsin on a scholarship, Stahle has lived in Sweden most of his life. He studied law at the University of Uppsala, intending to enter civil or foreign service.

E. G. Ryd, also from Sweden, will assist Stahle. A mining engineering student, Ryd will speak on the importance of Sweden's natural resources during World War II. Stahle's topic is "Sweden and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

Thursday's Ascension Day Service in St. Paul's Church will feature an address by the Rev. Burton Smith, pastor at Waldorf College. Breakfast will be served in the parish house following the service.

Cash Prizes Given Editorial Writers

Journalism was featured at last Tuesday's convocation with the presentation of prizes to the winners of the local alcohol editorial contest by Miss Margaret Wolff, head of the Journalism Department.

Miss Gladys Skelley of the Waverly Independent-Democrat gave an account of her varied writing experiences.

Duane Schroeder, freshman, was presented the $10 first prize in the contest sponsored by the Intercollegiate Association for the Study of the Alcohol Problem. Richard Brodersen, sophomore, and seniors Ervin Buhs and Reuben Schnaidt each received $5.

Working in journalism ever since her sophomore year in high school, Miss Skelley is currently employed as a news and column writer for the Waverly papers. She taught rural school several years before entering Iowa University to prepare for her career in journalism.

Engelbrecht To Address High School Graduates

H. C. Engelbrecht, business manager and assistant to the president, will address four different high school commencements this spring.

Speaking on the subject "Tomorrow Belongs To You," he will address seniors in McIntire on May 10; Luana, May 18; Greene, May 24; and Dunkerton, May 25.

Senate To Conclude '55 Political Slate With Final Reports

In anticlimax to a fiery session two weeks ago, the final session of the 1955 Student Senate is slated to be a fairly quiet one.

Final reports will be given at the meeting by all committees not previously heard from. The Recommendations Committee will indicate any changes that should be made to improve Senate action.

Retiring president Tom Loftus will also make recommendations toward bettering student government. Adjournment of this final session will conclude Student Senate activities until the new Senate convenes next fall.

Chief To Work On Lutheran Standard

Fred Gonnerman, TRUMPET editor-in-chief, has received word that he will be employed next year by the Lutheran Standard, American Lutheran Church publication with headquarters in Columbus, Ohio. Gonnerman, a pre-the, will work part-time while attending Capital Seminary, Columbus.

He is the sixth Wartburg journalist to be employed by the Wartburg Press.

HOVERING BEHIND THE WALLS

Wuebbens, LaBahn Mother 318 Coeds

By Jean Maas
TRUMPET Feature Writer

Fellas—ever wonder what those hovering spirits in Centennial Hall's Crown of the Campus or behind the walls in Wartburg Hall think about their jobs?

Girls—ever wish you knew what was going on in your house mother's head when she discovered that you had failed to sign out?

Here's what Centennial's Mrs. Rose LaBahn and Wartburg's Mrs. Tennie Wuebbens have to say about their jobs as house mothers to more than 300 Wartburg coeds.

"I think that I could write a book from the many interesting experiences I have had," Mrs. LaBahn says of her 17 years spent as house mother at Wartburg College. "At present I have 112 different personalities and my own to cope with. Funny things have happened and disgusting things have happened," relates cordial Mrs. LaBahn.

LaBahn To Waverly In '38

In 1938, Mrs. LaBahn moved to Waverly to be with her two children who were attending Wartburg. When she left Merrill, she left a job at a post office to become a mother to many girls.

"I spend time in prayer before I start each day and it does help," comments the genial proctor. "My mother always taught me to count to ten if I was angry. To think before I speak is another policy I try to follow."

Mrs. LaBahn chats across . . .

A house mother must be a jack of all trades, serving as janitor or nurse or whatever might be needed.

"It's fun to be here and see the college grow; there has been much progress — especially during the past 10 years," concluded Mrs. LaBahn.

Wuebbens In First Year

Mrs. Wuebbens is in her first year as a house mother. She worked in the Dean of Students office for three years previously.

"It's been quite different from Dean Oppermann's office," says Mrs. Wuebbens. "I miss the contact with ALL students which one has there—but it has been an extremely interesting year."

A graduate of Wartburg Normal of Waverly in 1922, she served in New Guinea as teacher and supervisor of a children's school.

Shortly after their marriage, her husband was called to serve as senior chaplain at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. While there she was "Mom" to 4,000 midshipmen.

'More Accustomed To Boys'

"Accustomed to boys as I have been in the past, I wondered about being a house mother to over 100 girls. It is a rich experience."

One of Mrs. Wuebbens' prized possessions is a unique set of pins on which is the miniature crest of each graduating class from 1946-1953 at Annapolis. "I'm very proud of those—that's my M.O.M. degree from the midshipmen." She also has a large collection of pictures of "her boys."

In 1951, after her husband's death and the marriage of two of her children, Mrs. Wuebbens came to Wartburg where a son and daughter were attending school.

. . . campus with Mrs. Wuebbens.

'Best Of My Ability'

A few words, a gavel, a constitution—and the power of Student Body President exchanges hands.

Lost among the several brief speeches delivered were six words buried in the oath taken by the incumbents, "to the best of my ability." Only the newly-elected officers are obligated to dedicate themselves to the business of student government.

The one hundred fifty students attending the inauguration ceremony, plus the other five hundred fifty who were not present, have placed an immense amount of responsibility upon the shoulders of their chosen leaders. No student is forced to take an oath that they will support student government to the best of their ability.

Maybe such an oath to this effect should be taken by all students. For, as the officers are responsible to the students, so the students are in duty bound to their officers. A good government can be made better when more people participate.

Aristole said: "If liberty and equality, as is thought by some, are chiefly to be found in democracy, they will be best attained when all persons alike share in the government to the utmost." KS

Footnotes To Faith:

Lord, How Wonderful Is Thy Name

By Dorold Beakmonn

Spring is here again. It is the time of year when all of God's creation is clothed with the beauty of new life.

When we walk along through the outdoors and see the beauty and magnificence of the earth where only God's hands have touched, it brings to mind the words of the Psalmist when he says in Psalm 8:

"O Lord, our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! Who has set thy glory above the heavens. When I consider the heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained; What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him?"

Beekmann

Yes, God is indeed a great God, whose glory is above the heavens. We need only to look around us to verify this.

It is He who has made the sun, the moon, the stars, the birds of the air and the fish of the sea.

It is He who has power to quiet the seas and move mountains. Is it any wonder that the psalmist calls his work excellent?

Yet, what do we read in verse one? O Lord, our Lord! Yes, this great God with all power and glory, who is beyond all understanding, is truly our God. It is He who has made us and watches over us.

It is He who will keep in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Him. Isn't this a comforting thought. But who are we that He should be mindful of us? Who are we that the psalmist should say that He made us a little lower than the angels and has crowned us with glory and honor.

It is because we are His children, sinners though we be. It is His boundless love for us that has moved Him to have compassion on us.

It is His love that moved Him to give His only Son for us; and it is His love that will move Him to take us all home to Him on the last day.

By Jerry Haver

A few more weeks and it will once again be Homecoming time. Perhaps more correctly stated Homegoing. Some of us will be homegoing not to be Wartburgcoming again.

In fact, some of us on the TRUMPET staff may even be graduated for the sake of profs, students, administration, etc. In order to make sure that everything will run smoothly, the TRUMPET will be edited next week without the aid of any seniors.

Fred Gonnerman, MAN of the past, will turn in his copy desk to Ken Starck, BOY of the future. Seniors . . . attention . . . be sure to comment next week on how poor the paper looks, etc., etc.

'Land of the Dragon' Wed. Night

That 10th player on the baseball team is Gary Volberding, who only catches nasty looks as he attempts, in vain, to string lines from KWAR to the ball field. It was in the seventh inning . . . during the stretch that Starck and Wainscott were informed that they hadn't been on the air since the first batter swung at the first pitch.

'Land of the Dragon' Wed. Night

All you other would-be alumni . . . did you get one of those nice diddo-graphed form letters? I especially liked the part that suggested, since they were giving a dinner in our honor, we should BE THERE!

The best part, however, was the request that we make reservations so that they'd know how many were coming. Too bad no one thought of mentioning the date or time of the feast.

By the way, if you go, leave your checkbook home.

NATIONAL NOTIONS
By Stan Bender

Reds Blossom Out With Facial Change

Springtime is truly a time of wonders—political miracles and spring flowers come at the same time. Take, for instance, the recent Russian change of face. A sudden make-up switch and crude Malenkov is replaced with the sophisticated Bulganin, and the Russian scowl and firm "Nyet" are replaced with the smile and "maybe."

Failures in the Russian programs are forcing them to open up. Before this time, delays and refusals met negotiating Western diplomats, now a special effort is made to be friendly.

Bender

Russia apparently, appreciates the idea of a buffer zone between the East and West. At present Yugoslovia, Switzerland, Austria and Finland are the buffer states in Europe. To this group, Russia hopes to add Sweden and Germany.

The West feels that the possible loss of Germany as a fighting ally could be compensated for only by having a Russian-free Poland, Czechoslavia, Hungary and Rumania. Germany is a mainstay in the Western idea of European defense. With Germany in the neutral camp, France would soon swing to the neutrals. The entire concept of defense would have to be revised.

Wishing for the demilitarization of the Soviet satellites is shooting for the moon, but it may prove worth the effort. Russia is anxious to have West Germany remain neutral. Even the reunification of Germany and the withdrawal of "communication troops" from Poland would look like a fair trade to the Russians for that end.

What does the Bulganin group hope to gain by these radically different tactics? First, and foremost, a reversal of the rearmament trend, back to the neutral camp with many of the West's potential allies.

If these nations can be lulled into the belief that they can live peacefully with Russia, and many European diplomats seem to be able to rationalize their way toward that goal, then Russia will be able to develop more freely. Free trade with the assumedly productive neutrals would permit the Communists to cover up the deficiencies at home.

It all adds up to a new approach which may dispel the cold-war atmosphere of the last few years. The new situation may be more pleasant for the present but could be fatal in the future. The West must realize that what is new about Soviet policy is the approach and not the objective, which remains unchanged.

Knights Host Luther Today

Oppiemen Hold IIAC Loop Show Position, One-Half Game Ahead Of 5-4 Norskies

By Stan Vogel
TRUMPET Sports Writer

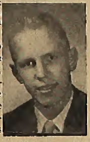
Luther, only one-half game behind third-place Wartburg in the loop standings, will meet the Knights today on Wartburg's diamond for the second game between the two baseball clubs. Game time is 2:15 p.m.

A win for the Knights (5-3) would put them a full one and one-half games in front of Luther (5-4). A sizeable margin still remains between Wartburg and the two Iowa Conference leaders, Buena Vista (8-0) and Upper Iowa (9-1).

The league lead will be decided tonight when Buena Vista and Upper Iowa play at Storm Lake.

Errors Lose For Knights

In the first Wartburg-Luther game, which was played at Decorah April 23, the Norsemen capitalized on six Knight errors to push across two unearned runs and take a 3-1 decision.



Havemann

Wartburg's Bob Holm hurled a fine four-hitter, but his teammates were halted by the three-hit pitching of Luther's Dave Ramnes.

The Knights' other two loses were incurred at the hands of the top two conference teams. Wartburg split a pair of games with Upper Iowa. The Knights meet Buena Vista again on Tuesday.

Luther has lost to Buena Vista, Upper Iowa and twice to Iowa Wesleyan.

Holm Or Jaspers To Go

Coach Earnie Oppermann will use either Holm or Fred Jaspers on the mound today. Oppermann said that two positions—right field and catcher—are still in doubt, with outfielders Maynard Midtgaard and Craig Wason and catchers Stan Kittleson and Bob Vogel vying for starting roles.

Jaspers

Victories number four and five came last Saturday for the Knights as they literally out-slugged Central to sweep a twin-bill. The scores were 27-17 and 14-3.

A strong wind pushing from behind the plate played havoc with the ball, and fielders ran in circles trying to get under fly balls.

Total of 60 Hits

When the contest was over, a total of 60 hits, including four home runs, had been unleashed. Jaspers and Holm were credited with the wins.

After two innings in the opener, the score was tied 10-10. Going into the final frame, Wartburg led, 27-10. Surprisingly, only two errors were charged against each team.

Circuit blasts were collected by Art Margheim, Maynard Midtgaard and Ron Havemann for Wartburg. Catcher Don Slaude had a perfect day at the plate, getting four hits in four trips, walking twice and scoring six times.

Wendell Liemohn, Waverly junior, was chosen vice president.

TRUMPET Sports

Agonistes

by
Ken Starck

A gusty gale swept across home plate toward center field last Saturday, and when the elements had subsided and the players had vacated the baseball diamond, the scorebook recorded a score of 27-17, Wartburg over Central.

Scorekeepers on both benches were nearly given to fits of hysteria as batter after batter paraded to the plate. No record of all past Knight diamond scores is available, but it would not be the least bit presumptous to assume that last week's whirlwind affair set some kind of record.

The small, newly black-painted scoreboard along the third base line was fairly bulging with numerals. The initial stanza was absolutely no indication to the casual observer of what was about to happen. Wartburg held a 2-0 lead after one inning of play.

Spectators surmised that the wind howling across the diamond attained speeds of thirty to forty miles per hour. The 27-17 marathon was only a seven-inning contest since it was merely the first of two games with the Dutchmen. Wartburg won the second game, 14-3.

By the time the nightcap was completed, the sun had already passed from its initial spot above the heads of the players to its resting place in the west.

The game was remarkable in several other repects, too. In the second stanza Central toed home plate 10 times as they collected only two base hits, both singles.

Knight moundsmen issued five gratis bases and hit one Central batsman. Southpaw Bob Holm started for the Knights and lasted one full inning.

Holm was replaced by right hander Fred Jaspers after facing eight Dutch batters without retiring one. Holm came right back, however, to win the second game.

Fans got a preview of what to expect at the outset of the battle when lead-off man Art Margheim skied a pop up behind home plate. The Central catcher raced back and by the time he located it, the ball was resting several feet in front of home plate and Margheim was safely perched on first base.

Most gratifying sight was the way the two teams battled it out to the deathly end. Neither team threw in the towel until the day's work was done—and if one would have, it probably would have been blown away before anyone caught sight of it.

All in all, it was a day of bitter baseball, and if someone would have told coach Earnest Oppermann to go fly a kite, he undoubtedly would have taken them up on it.

Racket Squad Falters, Post 2-6 Season Mark

Capturing only three individual victories in the three dual meets played, Knight netsters have posted a team record of two wins and six losses.

In the first match of his collegiate career, Stan Vogel turned back Larry Thompson of Luther, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4, registering the only win for the locals last Tuesday.

Norm Melchert and Bob Cornwell played their finest games of the season, winning against Iowa State Teachers. In the first meeting between the two teams, only Cornwell was able to win.

The invading racketeers from Loras swept to victories in all of their seven matches.

With only two matches remaining on its schedule, the racket squad is facing Coe in Cedar Rapids today, and on Wednesday will travel to Fayette to trade swings with Upper Iowa, who handed the locals a 6-1 defeat in their first meeting.

LORAS SUMMARY

Meyer (L) defeated Melchert, 6-2, 6-4.

Jo's Linksters Putt To Second Deadlock

Wartburg tee-men putted to their second 7½-7½ deadlock of the season with Upper Iowa last Wednesday, as Harold Steinhauer posted the best mark on the squad with a 5-1 record.

Coach Norm Johansen's golfers were able to pick up only 1½ points as they lost to Iowa Teachers, 10½-1½, and made little headway in dropping a 10½-4½ decision to Dubuque last Saturday.

Today the locals are seeking a victory at the expense of Luther College, hoping to improve on their 1-3-2 record.

Next Tuesday Drake will furnish opposition while on Friday and Saturday a conference meet is scheduled to get underway on the local fairways.

The thinclads were able to gather only 28½ points at the Olympics as compared to 46½ last year when they finished runner-up.

Bose Adds Record

Chuck Bose added another record to his growing number, running the 220-yard low hurdles in 26.0 seconds in the preliminaries. He came back with a :25.8 clocking in the finals, but placed only third, disqualifying him for another mark.

Unmacht

Jim Unmacht was the top point man, placing second in the discus, while Carl Anderson and Leon Bauer tied with two others in the high jump. John Polis heaved the javelin far enough to place third, and Jim Woodrow cleared the bar in pole vault to tie for third with five other vaulters.

A fast finish gave Lewis Gomer fourth in 880-yard run, and Nelson Bose stepped the 120-yard high hurdles to earn another fourth place for the Axmen. Bob Adix in javelin, Joe Toyosi in broad jump, and the mile relay team picked up three more fourth spots. Adix finished the scoring by tieing for fifth in the high jump.

At Grinnell last Wednesday, the Knights won only five of 15 events.

Bomhoff Takes Two

Bill Bomhoff was the only double-winner, copping the 100- and 220-yard dashes. Unmacht once again put the shot for first, and Gomer won a first-place in the 880-yard run.

Wartburg made a clean sweep in the high jump, with Bob Adix, regaining his old form, going 6'⅛", and Carl Anderson and Leon Bauer tieing for second with 5'8" leaps.

The Knights have one meet left on their schedule. All the conference teams will congregate on the local oval next Friday and Saturday to participate in the nineteam IIAC meet.

Graduate Bill Adix To Emcee Banquet

Bill Adix, former Wartburg basketball star, will act as toastmaster of the annual "W" Club Lettermen's banquet at 6:30 tonight in the Waverly Legion Hall.

According to Bill Rosenow, banquet chairman, about sixty alumni letter winners will be returning for the event. Theme of the dinner will be "Wartburg's Sport Parade." Norm Johansen, football coach, will be featured speaker.

Other speakers include Bob Campbell, latest addition to Wartburg's coaching staff, and Ax Bundgaard, Physical Education Department head.

GRAND TIME IN CENTRAL STATION

Loftus Loosens Grip On Gavel

By Harold Kurtz
TRUMPET News Writer

"Rooming with the Student Body President is like living in Grand Central Station."

That's the opinion voiced by Bill Altmann, senior roommate of SBP Tom Loftus.

"Yes," Tom agreed, "I'd estimate that there's been an average of 15 people an hour in this room."

Microbes Suffer

Loftus, a biology major, shut his bacteriology notebook, lit a Pall Mall and looked up. "Did being president hurt me scholastically? Yes, I'd say it has—a little."

Modestly he said that he didn't feel that he himself had accomplished anything. All that was done, he claimed, was the work of the Senate. For the Senate he had nothing but praise.

"They not only worked on present problems confronting us, but also looked to the future in such things as the union board, a campus congregation and the cafeteria situation."

'Conflicts Educational'

He also lauded the Student Body for being extremely cooperative. "Of course there have been conflicts," he admitted, "but through conflicts come education."

When questioned as to whether the job hurt his social life, he responded in the negative. "No, I feel that being president makes one more aware of the social duties too. I feel the most important function of the office is to mix with as many students as possible, thus enabling him to get a good cross section of student opinion."

From Benson, Ill., Loftus attended Eastern Illinois State two years before transferring to Wartburg. He is taking a pre-theological course and plans on entering Wartburg Seminary next fall.

Picking up his notebook again, he concluded, "It's been a pretty good year—a grand experience. In fact, I can put that in the superlative and call it the grandest experience of my life."

Contemplative SBP Tom Loftus wonders why the photographer is taking a picture of him.

Louis Novak Recital Thurs. At St. Paul's

Louis Novak, senior, will be presented in an organ recital Thursday, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, at 7:30 p.m.

Novak, who is a student of Dr. E. A. Hovdesven, Music Department, will begin with "Piecrcure" by Victoria, "Fonacaglia" by Bach, and continue with Mendelssohn's "Sixth Sonata."

Two selections by Vierne, "Chorale" and "Arabesque," will follow. "Toccata" from Widor's Fifth Symphony will conclude the program.

APG Accepts Two At Initiation Dinner

Conrad Grosenick, senior, and John Polis, junior, were received into Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity, at a dinner in the home of Miss Margaret Wolff, Journalism Department head, last Sunday evening.

Ken Starck, junior, was elected next year's APG president at the brief business which followed. Junior Shirley Cords was elected bailiff, and Polis, secretary-treasurer.

Stephen In On Stork

Proud parents of a new seven and one-half pound baby boy are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Huffman. The baby, born in Waverly Mercy Hospital last Saturday morning, was named Stephen John.

Bumbarger Speaker

Paul R. Bumbarger of the Charles City Press is the feature speaker at the Alpha Phi Gamma annual Press Banquet, May 21 at 6:30 p.m. at the Legion Hall.

All staff members in publications and their guests are invited to attend the formal dinner. Tickets are now on sale at $1.50 and may be purchased from APG members: Fred Gonnerman, Walt Schulz, Ken Starck, Shirley Cords, Jerry Haver, Ron Retzlaff, Janet Westphal, Con Grosenick, John Polis or Miss Margaret Wolff, publications adviser.

Nine Biology Majors Slate Graduate Study

Names of senior biology majors at Wartburg planning to do graduate work were recently disclosed by Dr. Elmer Hertel, head of the Biology Department.

Five students have been accepted into the medical school at Iowa University. Joe Royoni, Lee Beck, Marvin Roloff, John Heine and Owen Jensen, lone chemistry major, will enter next fall. James McNamee, junior, has been chosen as an alternate.

Senior Tom Stephenson will study physical therapy at SUI, and senior Walter Engelbrecht will take medical technology at St. Luke's Hospital in Cedar Rapids.
